Tulsa TV Editorial

Editorial on KOTV, Channel 6, Tulsa, Okla., Jan. 20 at 6:23 p.m., and Jan. 21 at 7:23 a.m.

A town in southwestern Arkansas which is appropriately named Hope, is planning to shake up Washington by refusing to accept some unwanted aid.

The Post Office Department wants to spend $500,000 for a new post office in Hope. Residents of the town like the one they've got, even if it was built way back in 1912. They don't think they need a new post office, and they don't want government money to build one.

One particular Hope resident, Alex. Washburn, is circulating a petition to get at least 2,000 of the town's 8,400 residents to ask Washington to take back its old funds.

Washburn hopes the action will inspire other towns over the nation to turn down federal funds for unneeded projects.

The management of KOTV hopes so, too. The habit of accepting handouts from Uncle Sam is becoming all too widespread . . . and like most habits, once it is started, there is no stopping it.

KOTV would like to see more of the independent attitude of Hope, Arkansas, displayed in Tulsa. For example . . . there must be some way we can finance our low-water dam project without asking for federal aid!

Letters to Editor

Editor The Star: It was with great pleasure that I read of petitions by the citizens of Hope rejecting $500,000 in federal funds (?) for a new post office. You and the 2,000 citizens of Hope who signed the petition are to be congratulated on your independence. I am proud of the action you have taken and that you were not beguiled by the siren song of "free" money.

Yours is an example of good government for all cities in America to follow. Too few of our local governments have the fiscal responsibility to reject hand-outs of the citizens' money — commonly called "federal funds."

Editor The Star: Per the Wall Street Journal I see you are trying to dodge another post office. Congratulations — for you should see the job they did on us, with a built-in traffic bottleneck daily.

Johnson Elated Over Outlawing of Poll Tax

By HARRY KELLY
WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson has hailed as a triumph of liberty a new amendment to the Constitution outlawing the poll tax as a requirement for voting in elections for federal office.

The 24th Amendment was written into the law of the land this election year when South Dakota Thursday became the 38th state to approve it. Ratification by three-fourths of the 50 states was required.

Johnson said in a statement it was a "verification of the people's rights which are rooted so deeply in the mainstream of this nation's history."

"This triumph, now of liberty over restriction is a grateful and proud moment for me," Johnson said.

He added: "The tide of a strong national desire to bring about the broadest possible use of the voting process runs too strong to hold back."

"In a free land where men move freely and act freely, the right to vote freely must never be obstructed."

While certification ceremonies probably will be held here later, they are only a formality. Once South Dakota's legislature completed its ratification no further legal action was required.

The amendment provides that the right to vote in any primary or general election for president or vice president, or for senator or representative in the Congress, shall not be denied because of the failure to pay a

This is a part of improvements resulting from a $185,000 bond issue approved by local citizens last year.

THE BOTTOM PHOTO SHOWS THE INTERIOR OF the Home Economics Department which has four completely equipped new kitchens. The kitchens were equipped by Arkansas Power and Light Co., Arkansas Louisiana Gas Co., City of Hope and School District 1A. The 30 by 56 feet room has two gas and two electric ranges; washer-dryer, four divided sinks and everything is completely new.

OPEN HOUSE IS FROM 2 TO 5 P.M. SUNDAY, JAN. 26. New additions at Hopewell School will be completed in about three weeks. They include four new classrooms and a cafeteria. The public will be invited to inspect these new facilities too.

Says Baker Couldn't Afford Set

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Barry Goldwater, R-Ariz., said today President Johnson should have realized that Robert G. Baker couldn't have afforded to give him an expensive stereo set on his salary as secretary to the Senate Democratic majority.

The President told a news conference Thursday the stereo delivered to his home in 1949 was simply a gift from an old friend, meaning Baker. He also spoke of Baker as an employee. Senate investigators have developed testimony that the stereo cost over $500 and was paid for by an insurance agent who had sold a big policy on Johnson's life. The agent said he sent the stereo to Johnson at Baker's suggestion.

French Plan to Recognize Red China

By JOHN M. HIGHTOWER

WASHINGTON (AP) — French President Charles de Gaulle has sent word to President Johnson that he decided to recognize Red China primarily because he felt it unwise in a rapidly changing world to ignore any powerful nation and most powerful nation in the East.

De Gaulle's argument, made known to the State Department and White House through various diplomatic channels, boiled down to a contention that the U.S. policy of trying to isolate the Communist mainland of China from the world of allied nations is unproductive and out of date.

The latest and perhaps most comprehensive presentation of De Gaulle's views on this alliance-straining issue was made by Canadian Prime Minister Lester B. Pearson when he conferred here Wednesday with President Johnson.

Pearson came here following a visit to Paris last week during which he had several talks with

Johnson Wants Quick Senate Action on Cut

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson called today for quick Senate action on history's biggest tax cut bill, saying "each day's delay withholds from our economic bloodstream $30 million."

Johnson issued a statement commending the Senate Finance Committee for its vote Thursday approving the $11.5-billion tax cut. And he had a good word for Sen. Harry F. Byrd, D-Va., who he said exercised "impartial chairmanship" over the tax committee.

"The Senate Finance Committee has demonstrated the ability of the Congress to respond clearly and promptly to pressing national needs," Johnson said.

Johnson's figure of $30 million as the daily economic loss from any delay in final action was based on the fact that withholding of income taxes from paychecks will be reduced one week after the bill is enacted. The withholding rate would be cut from 18 per cent to 14 per

They Went After That Crazy Coon

WEST MEMPHIS, Ark. (AP) — Mildred Thomas, 18, and her 14-year-old brother Eugene were walking along the Mississippi River, looking for stove wood Thursday when they heard an animal scream.

"Eugene ran over to a log and jumped right on that thing's back," said Mildred. "Then he yelled for me to come quick because he had caught a coon."

When the sister got there, she grabbed the animal by the back leg and beat it to death with a stick.

It was a bobcat the size of a large dog.

Says Baker

Baker, a former Senate page from South Carolina, owed his $19,000-a-year Senate job to Johnson, who at the time was the Senate Democratic leader. Goldwater scoffed at the President's explanation. He told a news conference:

"I don't think any administrative aide can afford an $835 (sic) stereo set, if that's what it cost. I don't know any administrative aide that could. Johnson should have realized that on an administrative aide's salary, that's a pretty expensive gift."

After Johnson gave his version of the gift, Senate Democratic Leader Mike Mansfield of Montana said this explanation should end the matter. But Goldwater's comments, and the reaction from some other Republicans, made it plain the Republicans expect to get some election-year advantage out of the Senate Rules Committee's inquiry into the dealings whereby the 35-year-old Baker became a millionaire while holding his Capitol Hill job. He left the job Oct. 7 under fire.

cent under the Senate bill. The Senate Finance Committee voted 12-5 approval of the measure Thursday after 20 days of executive sessions and well over 100 separate votes. But the floor debate cannot begin until congressional staff experts finish drafting all of the new language written into the 310-page bill by the committee. They indicated today this might well take all of next week. In that case, the debate probably would not start before Feb. 3. This would leave only seven or eight days for floor action before the passage deadline of Feb. 11 set by Democratic leaders.

They must meet that deadline if the final enactment goal of March 1 is to be achieved. If the Senate does not pass the bill until after the Feb. 11-17 Lincoln Day recess there would be little chance to have the conference with the House over differences in the two versions and get the bill to President Johnson for signature next month.

The committee included in the bill all of the major provisions sought by Johnson. The President won a last-minute victory Thursday afternoon when he persuaded nine Democrats to kill $455-million worth of excise tax repeals which had been voted in the morning.

Chiefly involved were excises on luggage, jewelry, cosmetics and furs. The six Republicans on the committee and two Democrats—Paul H. Douglas of Illinois and Albert Gore of Tennessee—remained for repeal of the taxes in the afternoon test.

Republican Leader Everett M. Dirksen, author of the key repeal amendments, said he would press them on the floor. Democrats on the committee who will handle the bill on the floor said they were confident it can be kept pretty much in the form approved by the finance group.

Sponsors of the bill said they did not expect any serious efforts on the floor to change the the French leader.

France is expected to announce recognition next week and take immediate steps to establish full diplomatic relations with the Red Regime in Peking. A week from today De Gaulle is scheduled to hold a news conference and the prospect is that he will set forth his position on the China question at that time.

As now understood by top U.S. officials, his views cover these major points:

1. He feels there is a vacuum in Western policy in the Far East because of a lack of effective contact between the Western powers and the Red Chinese leadership. Thus he has argued that the Western powers will gain in the long run from having France move into the gap.
2. De Gaulle sees the split between the Soviet Union and Red China as a tremendous power conflict rather than an ideological struggle over Communist doctrine as many Western experts ordinarily describe it. He feels it is important for the West to have maximum contacts with both sides in this struggle, not just with the Soviet side.
3. Under terms of the understanding which he has reached with Red China for establishing recognition, De Gaulle believes he may be laying a basis for a two-China policy since the Chinese did not lay down the condition that recognition covered also their claim to Formosa.
4. Once relations are established, De Gaulle believes it should be possible to use French influence in Peking to work for Red Chinese acceptance and support of a true policy of neutrality in Southeast Asia—where the East-West conflict now centers in South Viet Nam.

DOROTHY DIX

THE THORN IN HER FLESH
By Helen Worden Erskine

Dear Helen: I've been married 16 years, still love my husband and should be happy for he has a fine position and is free-handed toward me with money, saying, "You're the boss where home is concerned."

We have a nice son and I'm a devout church-goer. My husband isn't. I guess that's the thorn in my flesh. He won't attend church regular and spends all his "pleasure" money on alcohol. His drinking doesn't hinder his work but there it is. In the beginning I drank along with him. Not now, having no liking for drinking people. I refuse them permission to drink in my home. However, if I'm not here, my husband condones their weakness. He stays out many hours after work, claiming he's drinking with the boys. This hurts my pride and puzzles me because when I drank with him he did not stay out till all hours and fussed if I refused to go home early. Now he suggests a divorce.

I suggested a separation, being the loser if we divorced. If he wants to come and go as he pleases, he can get a room elsewhere but responsibilities will continue as far as he is concerned. In desperation I visited a lawyer and asked him if I should set my husband free or seek a separation. He said, "Stick with your husband."

My husband insists that he loves me even though we don't have drinking as a common interest. Please help me to understand him. Should I divorce, separate or bear it? If he comes involved with other women should I let him have his fling, hope to pay for my new home and remain a drunkard's widow? —Troubled

Dear Troubled: If you and your husband could hit upon a common interest your worries might be over—at any rate alleviated. Plainly his interest is social drinking and yours the church. When you could drink along with him all was evidently well for, as you say, he was the first to want to go home. Now, without you, he stays away till all hours.

Aside from hitting it up at the corner tavern, what does he like to do? Is there any handicraft (marvelous therapy for the emotionally unstable) which he enjoys? If not, could you interest him in some one thing like cabinet making, weaving or hot-house horticulture (tropical plant culture is both fascinating and profitable) by taking a course in it yourself? Once you hit upon a project you can share together his interest in drinking will become secondary.

If you want to gain your point, don't make an issue of drinking. To force your will upon others is fatal. Better that your husband feels free to drink with friends in his own home than at the neighborhood saloon. To talk of divorce on such a slight pretext is absurd. The lawyer was right. "Stick with your husband." Send a stamped self-addressed envelope for my

THE STORY: Duffey is trying to prove he was not guilty of a crime for which he was sent to prison. His investigation leads him to a man named Solly, who operates a tavern in a place called South Mountain, Ariz.

Beyond the kitchen was a short hall with a room on either side. Jinx's brother-in-law opened the door on the left. A fat man was lying on the sofa. He sat up when we came in and began to put himself together.

"Keep our friend company," Solly said.

He shut the door behind him and the four of us were left in close harmony within a small room.

"What's with this one?" the fat man asked. He had dirty brown eyes like the end of little pig sausages.

"He came down from where Jinx was," one of the Rover boys said. "Last night he was nosing around for Jimmy Turner."

I had a lot of fast answers for all that, but I kept them to myself.

The fat man reached down to the floor between his feet for a package of cigarettes.

"Jinx told me to look him up."

"You got a match?" he asked.

I shook my head.

One of the Rover boys supplied a lighter.

We didn't have much in the way of conversation. Solly came back.

"Mr. Duffey's a real smart boy," he said. "Real smart. Maybe we should take him to meet Turner."

"Meet Turner?" the fat man began. Then he smiled, a big smile.

Solly snapped his fingers and one of the Rover boys hit me. It came a long way and I saw it coming. But when I started to duck, the other fun-loving Rover was holding me and things exploded all at once.

The next thing I was aware of was the movement of a car, a big car traveling fast. I opened the eye that wasn't tight against the floor and beyond, wedged between me and the door, was a big foot. It wasn't mine.

Cautiously, I worked out the fact that my wrists weren't together, nor my ankles. So I

China is considered to have the oldest existing civilization.

First use of nickel plating on an automobile was made in 1906.

There was a lot of activity out on the road, cars stopping, voices shouting, and from somewhere far off and coming closer the wonderful sound of a siren screaming. I gave some thought to going back out there and telling the police about where I had been and what had happened. But it was too fantastic for me to believe, so why should they?

I lay and wondered about Jinx. He had been well enough less than three weeks ago. Now he was dead from a sudden affliction, like the Jimmy Turner whom Solly had been taking me to meet? One little, two little, three little Indians... this one continued to hug the earth.

In spite of, or maybe because of, the bump I had taken, I began to drift down and down, to sink low and away from the throbbing pain. Finally, I went off to nowhere and drifted in nothing. It was really a comfortable place to be.

Networks Bid High for Pro Grid Games

By JACK HAND

Associated Press Sports Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — Bidding for the television rights for National Football League games in 1964 and 1965 may reach the dizzy heights of $15 million or more today when a new two-year contract is to be awarded.

Commissioner Pete Rozelle will accept sealed bids from the major networks. All three networks — National Broadcasting Co., Columbia Broadcasting System and American Broadcasting Co.—have been invited to bid.

Rozelle has reserved the right to delay a final decision as late as Tuesday if complications arise. However, a decision is expected today.

The college television rights for the next two seasons were awarded to NBC recently for a $13,044,000 bid. NBC also has the rights to three New Year's Day bowl games — the Cotton, Rose and Orange.

When the NFL negotiated its first single network television deal two years ago the rights went to CBS for $9,300,000 for two years or $4,650,000 a year. ABC owns the television rights to the rival American Football League on a five-year contract that expires this year.

The 14 NFL clubs will reserve the rights to closed circuit television in their home area when the clubs are home under the new contract. The home area is blacked out on home television when the team is home. A recent experiment with closed circuit in Chicago for the Bears-New York Giants championship game was considered successful.

The contract for the title game expired after the 1963 game for the tenth annual Betty Crocker Search program. More than 484,000 girls in 14,000 of the nation's schools participated. Since the program was launched, more than a third and a half million girls have participated and scholarships approximating one million dollars have been awarded.

Betty Crocker Search is approved by the National Association of Secondary-School Principals. Judging is by Science Research Associates of Chicago, nationally known educational publishing and testing organization.

Fining Player Just Made Him Angry

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Fining Wilt Bellamy was like poking a hole in a hornets' nest.

The Baltimore star, assessed $400 earlier this month for not hustling, has reacted angrily — angrily, that is, against the Bulls' National Basketball Association opponents. In fact, that $400 might be the most expensive $400 the other teams incur this season.

Bellamy had a perfect game from the field Thursday night, sinking all 12 of his field goal attempts, in sparking Baltimore to a 130-114 triumph over New York.

In other games, Boston outlasted St. Louis 110-104 and San Francisco walloped Detroit 125-93.

Bellamy, rookie of the year in 1961-62, finished with 31 points in three quarters — he sat out the entire fourth — as Baltimore scored its most points of the season and won its fourth game in the last five starts.

Bill Russell's hook shot and Sam Jones' pair of free throws in the final 25 seconds brought Boston its fifth victory in six games with St. Louis.

San Francisco climbed into second place in the Western Division, five percentage points ahead of St. Louis, as seven players scored in double figures against hapless Detroit. Wilt Chamberlain led the parade with 28 points.

2nd Degree Murder Brings Five Years

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—Walter Jones Jr., 37, was found guilty Thursday of second degree murder and sentenced to five years in prison for the shotgun slaying of his wife, Margaret Jean Jones, 27, at their home at Little Rock.

Circuit Judge William J. Kirby found Jones guilty after the defendant waived a jury trial. The shooting was Oct. 12, 1963. Jones testified that his wife came in about 4 a.m. and said she had been out with another man.

which NBC paid $926,000. The title game will not be a part of the package awarded today but will be up for bids later, probably in March. The price is expected to soar over the million mark.

Groundbreaking for New College

PARAGOULD, Ark. (AP) — Groundbreaking ceremonies are set Tuesday for the new Crowley's Ridge Junior College, a Church of Christ school that will conduct classes year-round.

Gov. Orval E. Faubus will speak at the ceremony and later at the annual Paragould Chamber of Commerce banquet.

The school will be built three miles west of Paragould.

Kittens Down Blevins, Hope Girls Defeated

By CARTER HARDAGE

Hope Star Sports Writer
Holding back a final period surge by the Blevins Juniors, the Bobkittens defeated them 52-49 last night in the County Tourney at Guernsey. Hope's Lady Cats met defeat at the hands of Saratoga by a score of 50-39.

The Kittens extended their winning streak to four games with last night's close one, making a comeback from the rather slow start they had this season. To say the least, Blevins was no pushover. Hope had to fight all the way. The Bobkittens trailed by five points as the Second Quarter began, but came back to command a halftime advantage of 28-22. During the third quarter they opened the gap even more, and luckily so, for Blevins came tearing back and almost caught them.

In the scoring department for the Juniors, Stannie Parris was again high with a 16 point total. Danny Wilson and Dennis Turner had 10 each, Mike Westbrook 8, Richard Sallee 6, and Larry Don Wright 4. Hugg had 24 for the opposition.

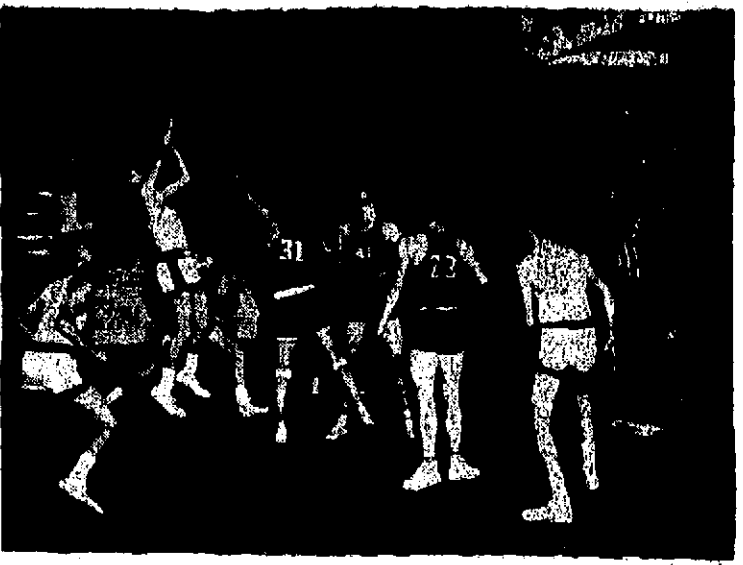

Hope's Ladies suffered their second loss in three starts to a rough Saratoga team. Dropping behind in the initial minutes, the Ladies trailed throughout the match.

Annette Hatfield was manager in the scoring department with 16 points for her credit. Phyllis Martin had 12, Shirley Smith 10, and Carolyn Hatfield 1. Archer had 24 for Saratoga.

Saturday night, the Bobcats and the Bobkittens both journey to Pantherland for a twin bill. The Cats had better beware, because Magnolia has gotten progressively better as the season moves on, and they have already beaten Hope down there in a tournament. Fans are encouraged to follow the Cats and lend them the support they deserve as the team that plans to take the District crown.

Tonight's place in the County tournament pairs the Hope and Blevins Junior girls at 6:15 p.m.; Hope takes on Spring Hill in the finals of the Juniors boys division and the Blevins and Saratoga Senior boys meet.

Athletics to Remain in Kansas City

By BOB HOOBING

Associated Press Sports Writer
BOSTON (AP)—Vowing the Athletics will not be uprooted from Kansas City this year, President Joe Cronin announced the 1951 American League baseball schedule today.

It lists the presidential opener in Washington April 13, includes a record 443 night games and presents trade-shuffled line-ups.

The Athletics' Charles O. Finley was voted down 9-1 by fellow club owners on his request to move the team from Kansas City to Louisville, where he already has signed a conditional lease.

Finley said he would take the matter to court.

"We are not even considering being forced into a change by any court action," Cronin said.

"We sent out copies of the schedule to all the clubs for approval before it is released."

We have such approval from Kansas City, signed by General Manager Pat Friday, to play its schedule in Municipal Stadium."

President Johnson is expected to handle the traditional first pitch when Los Angeles meets Washington in an opener five days later than last year. As vice president Mr. Johnson attended all openers with his predecessor, the late John F. Kennedy.

The regular schedule does not finish until Sunday, Oct. 4.

On Tuesday, April 14, the New York Yankees open their bid for a fifth straight pennant and 14th in 16 years at home against Boston. The same afternoon Baltimore is at Chicago, Kansas City at Detroit and Minnesota at Cleveland.

The 443 night games are 15 more than the previous all-time high of last year and 65 more than in 1961 when the American League first expanded from eight to 10 clubs.

Los Angeles is the most ardent team with 88 night games. Baltimore lists 61 and Kansas City 53.

University of Miami Cuts Down LaSalle

By TED MEIER

Associated Press Sports Writer

Rick Barry was good as a sophomore in college basketball for the University of Miami, Fla. Hurricanes last year. He's better this season.

The 6-foot-7 junior from Roselle Park, N.J. demonstrated his ability anew Thursday night with 32 points to lead the Hurricanes to a decisive 121-89 victory over LaSalle at Miami Beach. He's now the sixth highest collegiate scorer with 457 points in 15 games for an average of 30.5.

In living up to the praise of his coach, Bruce Hale, the 19-year-old Barry flipped in 10 field goals and 12 of 13 free throws. Down by 10 points the Hurricanes went on a 17-2 spree midway of the first half to turn the game into a rout.

"Barry has no weaknesses," Hale has said of his 200-pound star. "Best of all are his ability to get up in the air with anybody and his tremendously quick reflexes."

Barry faces a stern test next month on Feb. 10 when the Hurricanes host Creighton and its star, Paul Silas, the nation's leading rebounder.

Silas, a 6-7 giant like Barry, shared the headlines with Rick Thursday on another light national program. He grabbed 32 rebounds and scored 22 points as the Blue Jays won Omaha 84-57.

Creighton's record now is 14-2, Miami's 11-4.

Hogs Looking Good Early in the SWC

FAYETTEVILLE, Ark. (AP)

—Arkansas, looking good in early Southwest Conference play, steps outside the league at Tulsa Saturday hoping to improve a mediocre season record against the University of Tulsa.

The Hogs are 2-1 in SWC play, with surprise triumphs over Texas and Texas Christian University and an expected loss to Texas Tech, at Lubbock where the Razorbacks have yet to win.

Overall, though, the Porkers are 5-6, largely because of four-game losing streak early in the

and his tremendously quick reflexes."

Barry faces a stern test next month on Feb. 10 when the Hurricanes host Creighton and its star, Paul Silas, the nation's leading rebounder.

Accidents Plague the Winter Game

By HANS BENEDICT

Associated Press Sports Writer

INNSBRUCK, Austria (AP)—Crippling accidents and less serious ones continue to plague pre-Olympic training sessions, forcing officials to take extra precautions against further injuries for the Winter Games starting next Wednesday.

A British toboggan team member broke an arm Thursday while two American ski jumpers were involved in lesser accidents.

The increasing mishaps, though, failed to daunt coaches of the United States teams who named some of their starters for Olympic events.

Norman Barkley, a British slizzer, flew off the dangerous toboggan course, spun around season.

Arkansas had little trouble whipping Southwestern Louisiana in the opening game, but then lost consecutively to Missouri, Kansas, Oklahoma State and Vanderbilt.

The game at Tulsa will end a two-week mid-term rest period for the Razorbacks, who will field a starting five from these candidates: Jim Jay, Jim Bane, Ricky Sugg, Jim Magness, Larry Hogue, John Talkington and J. D. McConnell.
